Dear Seabury Community,

It is with gratitude that I write at year-end to thank you for channeling your personal philanthropy through the Seabury Charitable Foundation. Many of you have provided funds for our work over the year through generous gifts, some in memory of dear friends and loved ones and some “just because.” All of you made it possible for the Foundation to underwrite our new wheelchair-accessible van. Some of you have already enjoyed a ride—I did and it is quite advanced in its capabilities!

Soon it will be wrapped in the Foundation’s motif that will remind all in the community that “Seabury Cares.”

Speaking of Seabury Cares, our new online presence can be found at www.seaburycares.org. The site will serve as a space which will celebrate the joy that so many bring to participation in community activities and generosity.

Thank you for a wonderful year!

NEWEST LEGACY SOCIETY MEMBER

Hazel Stavrinos

Hazel Stavrinos was an active member of the Bloomfield community. She brought her commitment to volunteerism to the Seabury campus when she came here ten years ago. She was a member of the Seabury Alter Guild and was actively engaged in many activities.

“If anyone needed help at Seabury, Hazel was ready to volunteer!” says Jodi Morrissey, Activities Coordinator.

We celebrate Hazel Stavrinos and will honor her on the donor board.

JOY IN THE PERFORMING ARTS

It was pure joy to welcome the Hartford Symphony Orchestra to campus on November 4 for the first of five performances. The quartet played a wonderful assortment of jazz to a full house.

Please join us at the upcoming performances of the HSO in the Bishops’ Chapel on January 6, March 16, April 6 and May 11.
JOY IN GIVING BACK

It was a wonderful moment recently when the Seabury Charitable Foundation provided a new lawnmower to the Trails Committee. On one of the last warm and sunny fall days, the crew gathered to see the new purchase and take a peek under the hood.

The Trails crew presents the new tractor.

Enjoying the new horsepower!
